Introduction

Baby shark do-do-dooo-do-do. It's time to go explore the ocean! If you have just joined us, there is a Story time that goes along with today's craft. It is called Commotion in the Ocean by Giles Andreae, follow the link to see the story! Today we are making shark hats. This craft is fun and will have the whole family excited to discover the mysteries of the deep blue sea.

Things you will need:

- Blue , white, and black paper
- Scissors
- Markers/ crayons
- Stapler
- Tape

What to Do:

1. Take a blue piece of paper and create a rounded triangle for the body of your shark.
2. Take your black paper and cut a half circle for the mouth of your shark.
3. Glue the shark mouth down
4. Cut out white triangles for the teeth and glue on to the black mouth
5. Using a marker draw your shark eyes
6. Take your blue paper and cut into thirds lengthwise you create the head band.
7. Staple strips together for the right size.
